

Daily Devotion For April 20, 2023

"I love to tell the story, of unseen things above, of Jesus and His glory, of Jesus and His love, I love to tell the story, because I know it is true, it satisfies my longings, as nothing else can do." (I Love To Tell The Story by Katherine Hankey 1886)

One of the great hymns of the Christian Faith is the hymn, "I Love To Tell The Story." It was written in 1886 by Katherine (Kate) Hankey. This simple hymn has captivated the hearts of millions of Christians throughout the years and reflects Kate's faith in Jesus.

Each of us is writing a story about Jesus and his love. I can't write your story and you can't write mine. Each of us is responsible to write our own stories. The exciting thing is that each of us has a unique story to write. The settings of each of our stories are different filled with different circumstances, joys, sorrows, tragedies, burdens, strengths, weaknesses, etc.

As Christians, our stories should be in harmony with God's story and of how he wants us to live. How can our lives be in harmony with God's story? By falling in love with Jesus more today than yesterday.

Thought For Today: What about your story? In all of our stories there may be bad sentences and paragraphs about how we have failed the Lord, even as all the biblical characters we read about did. Remember, your story is not finished.

Today's Prayer Focus: Pray that you would fall more in love with Jesus today and that your story would be in harmony with God's story for you and that your life would be pleasing to him. Deo Volente.
